Name            : Ramadhan Amannu

From            : Universitas Negeri Jakarta

Written Test

1. Javascipt Framework is a code structured library of Javascript that can support a developer to build simply and faster web application. Vue.js is a one of popular Javascript Framework that build from 2014. This framework has advantages at integrating library and existing projects. So that support developer to create complex and solid single page application.

2. Ellipsis provide developer to trim text in any section and fill it with (...)

3. Animation properties
   a. @keyframe is a control rule for define style animation code CSS
   b. Animation-name for defining name of keyframe settings
   c. Animation-duration for decide how many time animation can played
   d. Animation-iteration for decide how much animation can played
   e. Animation-direction for decide direction of animation will played

4. Lazy Load in Javascript is technique to make image load in website not sincronized. It meaning, image from front of webpage can load first and other image can't load if user not scrolled webpage.

5. Git Commands
   a. Git init, create .git directory to save program in local repository
   b. Git commit, commit files to the local repository
   c. Git add, add files to commit later
   d. Git push, send newest local repository to server.
   e. Git pull, get update repository from server to local repository